

Subject: Asphalt Scam Alert

Hi Tom,

Just a quick report that we had a person claiming to be named Jack Harrison of Asphalt Experts come to our home in Breckenridge, Summit County, Colorado offering to do a driveway repair and seal for $1,200. He was going to use a miracle mix with sand aggregate to fill all the cracks and plow damage etc.. He claimed to live in Silverthorne, CO and said that his truck was from out of state, did not get the plate, because it was his father-in-law's truck that he was using while his was being repaired.

The phone number on his card is 800-650-2685

I called it and got music playing and finally advised that we could not find his company registered anywhere and he claimed to be a sole proprietor and had not been in business long enough to get his LLC. All baloney of course. He said I should check Home Advisor because it was just like the BBB and there 500 good reviews about him. I said that I didn't know anything about home advisor but I did find 500 pages about a Jack Harrison asphalt scam. He hung up at that point.

Thanks for posting your consumer alert, it was helpful in our research to confirm who this guy was.....or wasn't.
